Outcome Based Teaching-Learning and Evaluation Methods in Economics: Bloom's Taxonomy Framework

Concept Note:

How to inspire a student to think, analyse and act in Economics? This question haunts every economics teacher especially at UG and PG levels. The effective answer to this question can be found in an outcome based teaching-learning and evaluation method. 'Bloom's taxonomy' is one such effective and innovative framework to be applied for Economics subject which is the dynamic social science subject with high relevance in finding solutions to the various developmental problems in the current world.

Objective:

To impart the knowledge among teachers at UG&PG levels about outcome based teaching-learning and evaluation in Economics subject by using the Blooms Taxonomy Framework
